

PRINCETON PUBLIC LIBRARY PRESENTS

VIRTUAL PANEL DISCUSSION: Make Us Visible NJ

Members of Make Us Visible NJ, a coalition of students, parents, educators and community members, speak about the organization and its successful effort to mandate the teaching of Asian American and Pacific Islander history in New Jersey's public schools. Via Zoom.

Panelists include MUVNJ board members Dr. Kani Ilangovan, NYU professor Ying Lu, New Jersey educator Sima Kumar and student advocate Christina Huang, who will discuss how the organization advocated for the passage of the AAPI Curriculum Bill in addition to the bill establishing the Department of Education Commission on Asian American Heritage. Moderators will be Jennie Pu, director of the Hoboken Public Library and Shanshan Ming, supervising librarian, Trenton Free Public Library.

Kani Ilangovan

Ying Lu

Sima Kumar

Christina Huang

Thursday, May 12, 7 p.m.

Registration required through the events calendar at princetonlibrary.org.

Presented in collaboration with the Bergenfield Public Library, East Brunswick Public Library, Hoboken Public Library, LibraryLinkNJ, Livingston Public Library, Maplewood Memorial Library, MentorNJ, Newark Public Library, New Jersey Library Association Diversity & Outreach Committee, New Jersey Association of School Librarians, Not In Our Town Princeton, Pennsauken Free Public Library, Ridgewood Public Library, Trenton Free Public Library and Union City Public Library.

Princeton Public Library | Sands Library Building | 65 Witherspoon St. | 609.924.9529 | www.princetonlibrary.org

Opinions expressed during programming at Princeton Public Library do not necessarily reflect the views of the library, its staff, trustees or supporters

Created by the Office of Marketing and Communications at Princeton Public Library. Printed on 100% recycled paper.